YETI OUT

Arthur Yeti B2B Tom Yeti

YETI OUT

Born in the London underground and built out across Hong Kong, Shanghai, and every party capital in between, Yeti Out is the collective behind the biggest crossover moments in Asian nightlife. They brought Boiler Room to Hong Kong for the very first time. They threw the parties for A$AP Mob's Cozy Boys tour, Heron Preston, and Virgil Abloh. Their fingerprints are on collabs with Vans, Nike, Coach, and Under Armour. And through their label Silk Road Sounds, they've launched a sound all their own. Having rocked Coachella and regular fixtures at Clockenflap, Wonderfruit, Shi Fu Miz, they've connected dancefloors from London and Berlin to Bangkok, Singapore, and Tokyo. This is the crew that doesn't just book the party, they build the culture around it.

Currently part of the AOS collective, Kong is one to watch.

COAST TO TOAST Glenfiddich BEYOND Edition ft. LAI LA (SAIGON)

LAI LA SAIGON

Saigon's nightlife has a new obsession, and its name is Laila. This modern cocktail club isn't just a bar, it's a full sensory takeover where music, light, and people collide into one unforgettable night. Behind the sound is music director Teddy Chilla, the producer and DJ who's rewriting the rules of Vietnam's underground scene by fusing traditional Vietnamese instruments like the đàn tranh with electronic beats. Add a drinks program built for the bold, a crowd that shows up in full force, and a room that turns every night into a party, and you've got Laila: sound on, drinks up, vibes unmatched.
